

Behaviour and Sanctions Policy

Discipline

An atmosphere of good discipline is essential for the successful running of the school and for the boys to reach their full academic potential. Good attention and control should result from the interest and respect of the pupils and not from the continual resorting to sanctions which will be seen by pupils as a weakness in the member of staff. In the event of unacceptable behaviour the Deputy Head will endeavour to draw something constructive from the matter; the opportunity should be taken for the pupil to learn from his mistakes. A boy's relationship with his Form teacher is a key element in the school's discipline and pastoral management, both as a reference for good behaviour and as a guide / support in the event of misbehaviour.

Whilst a good standard of conduct is expected from all boys it is acknowledged that pupils with Specific Needs may require reasonable adjustment to be made in how the school's codes are applied. This needs to be handled carefully in order that discipline is maintained without unfair focus on behaviours that are not intentionally mischievous.

School Code of Conduct

The Code of Conduct is printed in the School Calendar and outlines the manner in which the boys are expected to behave.

Code of Conduct

The Community

Courtesy and consideration for others are essential for a happy community. Every positive act is a positive contribution for a happy community.

Members of the school should make it easy for everyone to learn and for the staff to teach.

Other people's points of view should be respected.

Pupils must not put themselves or others in danger.

Boys should walk on the left hand side of staircases and corridors and not run within the building.

Eating in the corridors and on the stairs is not allowed. Chewing gum is not allowed.

Litter must not be dropped on the floor.

No financial transactions should take place at school.

Expensive items and electronic gadgets should not be brought to school unnecessarily.

Mobile telephones may only be brought to School with permission, and must be handed to the School Office on arrival.

Misuse of the internet is unacceptable.

Dangerous implements (including knives) are not allowed.

No-one should leave the building without permission.

The school buildings are for the benefit and enjoyment of members of the school and should be treated with care.

Desks and lockers should be kept tidy.

Any damages should be reported to a member of staff.

Boys should arrive in good time for Assembly and for Church.

Academic

Details of preps should be entered carefully in prep books and the prep book should be signed daily.

Work must be handed in on time.

Dress

The school uniform is worn during school hours and to and from school.

Shirts should be tucked in and ties worn neatly.

Games

Correct clothing and equipment is required for Games.

Games clothing and equipment should be clearly marked.

If a boy is 'off games' he must provide a note of confirmation from home in his prep book. Boys who are 'off games' join the 'off games' group and return home at the normal time.

Responsibility for Discipline

The Headmaster deals with serious breaches of discipline.

The Deputy Headmaster deals with individual breaches of discipline, boys are referred to him by staff etc. and he ensures that disciplinary systems are working. Whilst the school takes any complaints from students 'in good faith', it should be noted that if such complaints are found to be malicious and unsubstantiated, then the pupil in question will be subject to the disciplinary process outlined below.

Sanctions available

- Warning
- Half stripes
These become full stripes if there is repetition or further lapse. A green chit is given to the boy by the relevant member of staff and the chit is handed in to the Deputy Headmaster and the boy is then asked to explain his actions.
- Stripes
A Stripe is given to a boy who has seriously misbehaved in some way. A stripe is usually gained after the award of two separate half stripes. The stripe is recorded by the Deputy Headmaster and counts as one point against a house (equivalent to the removal of one star). The Deputy Headmaster informs the parents.
- Detention
This is for incomplete or missing work or major obstruction to academic work. Detentions are organised by a designated member of staff. They take place in the Monday lunch break and should be entered in the book kept in the designated member of staff's pigeonhole in the Common Room.

- Sent to Deputy Headmaster
For serious offences.
- Sent to Headmaster
The Deputy Headmaster should refer very serious cases to the Headmaster.
- Missing morning break (or other activity)
Boys may be made to spend the Morning Break outside the study of the Deputy Headmaster for disruptions, time-wasting in lessons etc. They should be sent there once in the first instance but attendance can be repeated if there is no improvement.
- Suspension
Boys are given a Red Form when they are suspended from the school by the Headmaster for repeated anti-social behaviour. This form clarifies the reasons for their suspension. Except in very serious cases, there will have been prior warning to the pupil. This is a very serious deterrent and is rarely used. Parents are immediately informed and requested to remove their son for a prescribed period. Repetition of the behaviour could result in Expulsion.
- Lines should not be set
- Notes in Homework Notebooks
Please do not write critical notes complaining of a boy's behaviour or performance in the Homework Notebook without checking with the Deputy Headmaster. Although this can assuage one's irritation, it may well be interpreted by a parent as a staff member's self-criticism and indicate that they can't cope.

Corporal Punishment

There is no corporal punishment and other unusual, humiliating punishments which would contravene the Children Act must be avoided.

Note that corporal punishment should not be confused with use of 'physical intervention' to avert 'an immediate danger of personal injury to, or an immediate danger to the property of, a person (including the child himself), as described under subsection 548(5) of the Education Act 1996.

Incentives for Good Behaviour

Stars are awarded by members of staff to boys who achieve high marks in their work, to those who work hard and for any positive contribution for the school including any particularly helpful acts that assist the school community. They are designed to reward boys but also to encourage those who are working hard at a subject that they find difficult. The Stars are entered on a board in the school by the relevant members of staff. At the end of each term they are added up and the totals entered into the Report. Each Star gains a point for the boy's House in the 'Cock House' competition (see Houses).

Detention

Detention is held on Mondays during the lunch break. It should be awarded for failure to produce prep (usually after a warning) or serious lack of work within a lesson (always after a warning). Detention is organised and taken by a designated member of staff and names should be entered in the Detention book which is kept in the Staff Common Room in the designated member of staff's pigeonhole. The names of those in detention are announced in Assembly.

Report Cards

Report cards are issued by the Deputy Headmaster for pupils with ongoing concentration, organisational or behavioural problems in class. Comments are entered by staff members and the card is checked daily by the form teacher and weekly by the Deputy Headmaster who will take the boy off the card when appropriate.

Confiscation

Mobile Telephones, electronic gadgets and other unsuitable items should be confiscated and the Deputy Headmaster notified.

- In the event of a pupil being reported to the Headmaster for a serious offence, the Headmaster shall interview the pupil.

- The Chairman of Governors will set up a panel to hear the appeal.

- A pupil who has been withdrawn, excluded, suspended, removed or expelled from the School has no right to enter school premises without the written permission of the Headmaster.
